

Young Diplomat Review

Are you an ambitious student, expert, diplomat, (young) academic or professional in the field of International Diplomacy and Negotiation, eager to share your take on current or past issues in international affairs with a diverse audience? The Young Diplomat Review is the place for you!

Who are we?

The Young Diplomat is an organisation aiming to bridge the gap between theory and practice by combining quality content with skills training to ambitious people from different backgrounds. The Review focusses on current issues in the fields of international diplomacy and negotiation. The goal is to contribute to a deeper understanding of international politics and development through the lens of diplomatic encounters between states and non-state actors. We believe that we can only enhance our understanding of diplomacy if we integrate a variety of different perspectives into the discussion on current and past affairs. The scope of the review encompasses the field of international diplomacy and negotiation in its width and depth. We aim to give a platform to students, young scholars/professionals, experts and diplomats.

First Edition

For our first edition, we will accept journalistic and opinion pieces, as well as book reviews, that touch upon theme of Nationalism vs Diplomacy. Within this theme we are especially interested in topics that focus on nationalism in relation to international relations, diplomacy and negotiations. You can think along topics such as How Digitalisation is Changing Diplomacy, or about the Future of Foreign Policy after the Pandemic. We are particularly interested in your approach, view or analysis on any of these topics in all different areas of the world. We are open to learning more about your scope in the field of international relations.

Basic practical information about the papers and submission:

- Each piece should be a maximum of 3000 words.
- Your piece will be reviewed by the magazine's board, they will decide whether or not to publish the paper and contact you if any adjustments are necessary.
- The deadline to submit your piece is October 31st, 2021.
- Please refer to our website submission section for our writing and style guide (insert link).
- You can submit your paper by sending an email to review@youngdiplomat.org (please note that submission does not guarantee publication).

If you have any ideas that don't follow these parameters, do not hesitate to contact us. We are looking for a diverse pool of papers and would be happy to help you with any ideas.

Looking forward to reading your piece!

The Editorial Board of the Young Diplomat Review